

Special Numbers Information and Contract For Solos, Duos, Trios, etc.

General Information for Dancers, Parents, and Choreographers

Any KICKS Company Member is eligible to compete a Special Number (solo, duo, trio etc.). Of the competitions we attend, some allow any and all routines to compete; others are more restricted, and either do not allow solos to compete, or only allow a certain number of dance routines from any one studio to compete. (We will discuss options with the dancers should we perform at a more restricted competition.) There are also many competitions that students can attend on their own, other than the mandatory ones we attend as a group. We can assist students in entering these alternate competitions; however, we cannot guarantee that an instructor will be present. Special Numbers may not be included in the recital.

NOTE: Studio tuition payments must be in good standing and up to date before undertaking the financial commitment of a special number. Students must also be taking their regular classes, including company classes, without excessive absences before undertaking the time commitment of a special number.

Competing a Special Number can be a great experience for young dancers. We want every dancer to have equal opportunities to perform in this outlet and not just hand pick certain dancers.

The Pros - a.) You learn to put yourself out there in front of large crowds of people; b.) You learn great work ethic in preparing for your special number on your own; c.) Judges critiques are specifically tailored for you; d.) You can express yourself in a way only you can express; e.) You have the opportunity to perform as much or as little as you like; f.) You can get one-on-one time with a choreographer of your choice.

The Cons - a.) It costs a lot of money to compete a special number (competition entry fees, choreographer fees, costume fees, etc.); b.) You need to have the will power and drive to rehearse on your own; c.) It can be very scary at times; d.) It can be discouraging when you feel a judge scores you low - remember it's only one person's opinion!!

Special Reminder - Competing a special number must happen in a very positive way. All dancers must encourage each other and respect each other. We are not competing to win or be judged against each other. Please treat this as an outlet to perform and do what we all love so much.

Cost of Competing a Special Number (Solo/Duo/Trio)

There is a financial responsibility when competing a special number. Students are responsible for competition entry fees, costume costs (if any), and choreography costs. Each of these costs will vary based on the choices made - see below for options. In addition, families are responsible for any transportation or lodging costs they may need to attend competitions.

Competition Entry Fees

The cost of the entry fee for each competition for special numbers usually ranges from $110 - $150 per solo and $65-$85 per student for a duo/trio. These fees are due along with the Competition Registration Form on due dates as stated in our company contract (roughly 60 days before a competition). Note: Families may incur additional fees if the forms are not submitted to the studio by their due dates.

Cost of Choreography

If students would like one of our teachers to choreograph their special number, there is a fee, to be paid to the choreographer which includes:

- Choreography and creativity from the teacher of your choice (if he/she is available).
- Teacher time for all choreography sessions and cleaning/coaching sessions (see options for total maximum hours). It is up to the student(s) to decide how much of this time they need.
- Studio space and time to rehearse on your own.
- One special numbers dress rehearsal to be held sometime in January before comp season.
- Music edits if needed.
- Costumes borrowed from the studio inventory. (Alternatively, you may purchase a brand-new costume from a costume company at your expense - the studio will assist you in doing this - or you may use a costume that you already own.)
- Administrative time to organize specials, gather music, register for competitions, download critiques to send, etc.
- Fees are due on the first rehearsal and are payable to the studio. There are NO refunds for any specials that are not competed or completed due to a dancer canceling.

Process for Competing a Special Number for Dancers, Parents and Choreographers (Short break down – detailed specifics can be found on pages 7-9)

1. Decide for sure if you would like to perform a special number and you can fulfill the requirements as listed above.

Decide which style and type of special number you would like to do.

There is a Special Number Checklist below that can assist you in completing all required items/steps.

Decide who you would like to choreograph the routine for you. (You may do it yourself, have a teacher do so, or have a friend or family member do so.) If you would like a teacher to choreograph your number, you will need to send an email to kicksaod@gmail.com and the studio will find out if the teacher is available. Please have a second teacher in mind in the event your first choice is not available.

Regardless of the choreographer or option, you will need to submit a the Special Number Request Form – section #1 -

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSfqlo8vOoLbSWzBSYBbboaKyjI0q6TZclNQgSKPZgvusiV4DQ/viewform?usp=pp_url

If a teacher is available to choreograph, they will contact you directly via phone or email that you provided on your Special Number Request Form.

Decide with your choreographer what music you wish to use. CHOOSE WISELY!!! Accomplish this through email, texting, or phone calls, before you meet for your first rehearsal. Note if your teacher wants to meet with you at your first rehearsal to discuss music this will not count as part of your rehearsal hours. If you wish to meet with your teacher at your first rehearsal to discuss music, this will count as part of your rehearsal time. To use time wisely, we recommend that you handle music before you meet through emails, texts, and/or phone calls.

Before finalizing your music selection, send a preliminary music request to kicksaod@gmail.com to see if your music is already being used. Once you have received an email back that your music selection may be used, submit a Music Approval Form – section #2 -

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSfqlo8vOoLbSWzBSYBbboaKyjI0q6TZclNQgSKPZgvusiV4DQ/viewform?usp=pp_url

Plan to submit your music choices at least two weeks before your first rehearsal. This email allows us to double check that no one is using your music and that the music is appropriate for competition (i.e. no overtly sexual or age-inappropriate themes). Note: Routines should be a maximum of 2 minutes 45 seconds and a minimum of approx. 2 minutes. Pointe and Tap routines might be a little less than two minutes).

Set up studio space and time to set the choreography. Initially the choreographer should be helping you to do this using our Studio Sign Up Genius. Please let us know if you need the Studio Sign Up Genius link. The summer is the best time to work with choreographers – choreographers have more time and the studio has more available rehearsal time.

At your first rehearsal, make sure your special fee is paid to the studio via check, cash, venmo or credit card (see costs above).

After your choreography is set, you may email us to let us know that you are satisfied with your choreography.

Make sure you have videoed your routine so your child can practice.

Your choreographer should have emailed you AND the studio copies of your song with correct edits.

2. All Special Numbers will need to choose their own costume. Before finalizing your costume selection, send a preliminary costume request to kicksaod@gmail.com to confirm that your costume is not already being used. Once you have received an email back that your costume selection may be used AND the cost and availability of the costume (if applicable), submit a Special Number Costume Form – section #3 -

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSfqlo8vOoLbSWzBSYBbboaKyjl0q6TZcINQgSKPZgvusiV4DQ/viewform?usp=pp_url

Note: Plan for your costume immediately, do not delay this. If you are ordering from a costume company, it can take up to sixteen weeks to receive a costume.

After your choreography is set, you must rehearse on your own. Keep rehearsing your routine as much as possible. Reserve a studio and time using the Studio Sign Up Genius (links will be emailed to you).

Make sure you continue to video your practices so you can assess your progress. PLEASE see the Studio Time Sign Up Genius link for specific instructions and policies regarding studio time sign ups.

Schedule one or two clean up rehearsals with your choreographer. You may have as much time with your choreographer as you would like; however, if this time exceeds the maximum listed in cost per option in the special number contract, it will cost an additional $60 per hour (the normal private lesson rate).

If you have choreographed a routine by yourself, you may schedule some time with a teacher to receive critiques and/or do a clean-up rehearsal. Compensation depends on the amount of time spent and will be determined by the teacher.

Parents should assess their child's special number at least 4 weeks before their child's first event and let us know that they are satisfied with the student's progress by sending an email if need be.

At the Competition: The studio will submit all music for each competition (via uploads to their systems).

There should be two copies of your music somewhere in the building via your phone/ipod and a parents'. At our Mandatory Competitions one of our staff will have our studio ipods present. Also Important: Bring all hair and costume accessories, and generally arrive 1 to 2 hours before your scheduled start time.

PLEASE DO NOT COMPARE your special number to other dancers in the company or other studios. Every special number is unique and designed specifically for you!!!

If at any time a parent or student has questions or concerns, they should not hesitate to discuss them with the studio. We want our students to be happy with their Special Numbers.

Detailed Info & Special Notes Regarding Competing a Special Number (Solo/Duo/Trio) for Dancers, Parents and Choreographers.

Contact us early if you would like a Teacher to Choreograph for You

Contact us early if you would like to do a special number. Please submit the Special Number Request Form. The summer is the best time to work on Special Numbers. Many teachers will be available at the end of June (after Recital) through the end of August. If there are a large number of dancers who want instructors to choreograph for them, students will be selected on a first come, first served basis. (Instructors only have a limited amount of free time and could be overwhelmed by requests.) We will do our best to see that everyone interested in competing a solo or special number gets their chance with the teacher of their choice. (Note - please have a second choreographer in mind if your first choice is not available). As another possibility, dancers may choose to choreograph their own solos. Instructors would be able to assist in cleaning numbers and in offering guidance - with a more minimal time commitment for the instructor. Fees charged would depend on how much time a student requested. (Talk to the studio about this; normal private lesson rates apply - $75 per hour or $38 per half hour.)

Special Note: There are many outside choreographers you can hire on your own. Many have their own rates and procedures.

Reserving Studio Space for Initial Choreography

Students need to coordinate with their choreographers to schedule studio rehearsal time.

Choreographers will need to use the Studio Sign Up Genius to reserve a studio and time to set the special number. We do not charge studio rental fees for this.

Reserving Studio Space for Rehearsal after Choreography is Set

Once the choreography is set, it is up to the dancer to find time to rehearse their routine at home or at the studio. The Studio Sign Up Genius will be available to you to reserve a studio and time on your own. Links for this will be emailed to you monthly. During the summer, studios are generally available during camps, summer classes and intensives. During the school year, studios are usually free for a brief time after or during rehearsals on Saturdays, before 4:30pm Monday thru Thursday, after the last class of the evening (for about 15 minutes) throughout the week, and possibly special times on Sundays. If you would like studio time to practice your special number and find that all the free studio time slots are taken, please notify the studio.

Note 1: Running numbers between our regularly scheduled classes is most likely not possible. One student quickly running a number between classes is usually not a problem; however, running two or three numbers between classes is too time consuming.

Note 2: If a student wishes a teacher to be present, arrangements for time and compensation must be made with the teacher first.

Note 3: Students are not allowed to skip classes they are registered for to rehearse their special numbers.

Video Your Routines

It is necessary that each student video their initial choreography. It is also highly recommended that each dancer has someone (a parent or another student) video record one or more of their rehearsals so that the dancer can work on their solo at home. Ideally, students should also video themselves after every rehearsal so they can judge their progress and see what they need to correct.

Duo/Trio Challenges

Rehearsing a duo or trio can be difficult due to scheduling issues amongst dancers. Remember that your duo or trio is a team and must work together. These types of routines require more rehearsal time because the dancers have to dance together at the same time. If you are considering a duo or trio, please consider how well each of the dancers will work together, and consider their individual schedules and their ability to get together to rehearse. If you choose to do a duo/trio, you are responsible for rehearsing as often as your team members feel necessary.

Selecting Music

Many teachers allow students to choose their own music or offer options/ideas to the choreographer. If you do not have music ideas, teachers will email you a list of music options that they have or recommend. PLEASE CHOOSE YOUR MUSIC WISELY!!! Make sure you can relate to your music choice. Do not rush into choosing a song. Once you choose a song, you will be stuck with that selection for the remainder of the year. Make sure it is age appropriate and suits your personality. Try to analyze the lyrics and content BEFORE making your final choice.

Some TIPS in choosing music: 1) Use Pandora – create a channel with your favorite song or singer and see what other songs come up like that particular song or artist; 2) Google and check websites for lists of great solo, duo, trio songs; 3) Pick a one word topic and search in the iTunes store OR on YouTube – see what songs come up according to that one word; 4) Ask your choreographer for suggestions as well.

Before selecting Music for a routine, the student or choreographer must check with the studio to see if anyone else is using the music you wish to use. Please email your song choice to kicksaod@gmail.com to see if your song choice is available for use. After confirming with the studio, the student must submit a Music Approval Form at least two weeks before starting work on the routine. (They must also submit the lyrics of their song, if there are lyrics). Note: the purpose of first checking with the studio is to make sure that no one else is already using the music you would like to dance to; however, the studio does not have the authority to approve of (or not approve of) the musical content and the themes of the song you would like to use. The purpose of the Music Approval Email is to make sure that all parties (the parents, students, and studio) are informed as to what the theme and content of the song is and that everyone approves of it. Note: Routines should be a maximum of 2 minutes 45 seconds and a minimum of approx. 2 minutes (Note: Pointe and Tap routines might be a little less than two minutes).

Selecting Costume

Students and/or Choreographers need to submit to the studio for approval the costume they wish to use. We want to make sure that costumes are appropriate and that no one else is using the same costume. A Costume Approval Form is used for this purpose. Note: if you are buying a new costume from one of the costume companies that we use, it can take up to sixteen weeks to get a costume. You need to plan early. PLEASE NOTE SPECIFIC DUE DATES (September 1st and November 1st)!!!!!!

Special Numbers Commitment to Competence

We ultimately want the students to look competent in routines that the students feel are challenging. We can think of at least two scenarios that could either render a routine less than challenging for a student or make a routine too difficult for the student to perform competently.

A. If the choreographer creates a number exactly to the dancer's current ability (which is what they are supposed to do), and they choreograph the number during the summer months of June or July; this is most likely 9 to 10 months before the student may actually perform the number in competition and will not take into account any improvement the student might make over a 9 to 10-month period. A routine choreographed in June or July might be too easy for the student when they actually perform the routine in March or April of the following year.

B. On the other hand, if the choreographer tries to anticipate the student's improvement, and choreographs a routine that is more challenging than the student's current ability, it is possible that the student will not improve to the degree that they need to and will not look competent in the routine.

To address these scenarios, we recommend that choreographers give the students options within the choreography to make a dance either harder and more challenging or easier if it is found to be needed at a later date.

Note to Choreographers:

The studio reserves the right to:
change choreography to something easier if a student for whatever reason cannot perform their given choreography competently and the choreographer is not available to make changes, and to change choreography to make a routine more challenging if the student has progressed and needs a higher level of difficulty and the choreographer is not available to make changes.

Note to Students and Parents:

We usually leave the final decision as to which version of their dance (easier or harder) each student uses. We have noticed, however, that even though the studio's position is that the students should choose the version that they do technically best, the students (in their quest to be more challenged) often choose the versions that are too hard for them to do and that they do not necessarily do well.

We feel the dancer's job is to entertain the audience with what they do well (and not to show the audience how they are simply trying to get through a higher level of steps – judges usually mark down for doing this because it is not entertaining to watch students struggling with steps). If a student looks better doing easier choreography then we feel the easier choreography is what the dancer should choose.

The choreographers typically give about four hours of their time to choreograph the routines. This is enough time to set and clean a dance if the steps given are within the dancer's current ability. Four hours is not enough time for a teacher to introduce and clean steps that are above the dancer's ability. If a student desires to do choreography that is leveled up and they wish to do it well, they either need to practice A LOT on their own, or they need to expect that they will have to pay extra to have teachers assist them. Always be prepared to do the easier choreography if it makes you look better.
